EDUCATION

- Ph.D. Cognitive & Behavioral Sciences, Florida State University (2001);
The influence of perceptual learning in memory for faces: A process-tracing approach to investigating the own-race bias.
- M.S. Cognitive & Behavioral Sciences, Florida State University (1999);
Self-generated misinformation: The influence of retrieval processes in verbal overshadowing.
- B.A. Psychology, Pfeiffer University (1996; summa cum laude).

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- 2010 – Present Visiting Scientist & Program Director, Law & Social Sciences Program,
National Science Foundation.
- 2007 – Present Associate Professor, Departments of Psychology & Criminal Justice,
University of Texas at El Paso.
- 2009 Visiting Research Scholar, Institute for Creative Technologies,
University of Southern California.
- 2005 – 2007 Assistant Professor, Departments of Psychology & Criminal Justice,
University of Texas at El Paso.
- 2001 – 2005 Assistant Professor, Department of Psychology,
Florida International University.

CONTRACTS & GRANTS

- 2010 – 2011 U.S. Department of Justice ($2,250,295). Intelligence interviewing and interrogation. (Principle Investigator. Center funding with subprojects to: Florida International University, Göteborg University, Roger Williams University, University of Albany, University of Portsmouth, and Applied Research Associates. Note: Year 1 of 5-year, $11.5 million research contract.)
- 2010 – 2011 U.S. Department of Homeland Security ($80,000). The importance of photographic, target, and perceiver factors in the perceptual identification of own- and other-race/ethnicity persons. (Principle Investigator. Subproject of the National Center for Border Security & Immigration, University of Texas at El Paso.)
- 2009 – 2010 National Policing Improvement Agency ($49,919). Interview and Interrogation Methods: Effects on Confession Rate, Quality of Information Elicited, and Accuracy of Credibility Assessment. (Principal Investigator in collaboration with Allison Redlich at the University at Albany, SUNY.)
- 2008 – 2011 U.S. Department of Defense ($465,523). Phase 2: Development of Evidence-Based Methods that Improve the Diagnostic Value of Interrogative Information. (Principal Investigator in collaboration with Melissa Russano at Roger Williams University.)
- 2008 – 2009 U.S. Department of Defense ($100,000). Intelligent Tutoring for Deception Detection and Investigative Interviewing. (Co-Principal Investigator in collaboration with Mike Schneider & Chad Lane at the Institute for Creative Technologies, University of Southern California.)
- 2007 – 2009 U.S. Department of Defense ($191,390). Phase 1: Development of Evidence-Based Methods that Improve the Diagnostic Value of Interrogative Information. (Principal Investigator in collaboration with Melissa Russano at Roger Williams University.)
- 2006 – 2007 American Psychological Association Science Directorate Scientific Conferences Grant ($8,000). UTEP Interrogations & Confessions Conference. (Co-Principal Investigator with G. Daniel Lassiter at Ohio University.)
- 2003 – 2007 National Science Foundation ($196,977). #SES-0317368: Skilled Perceptual-Memory and the Cross-Race Effect. (Principal Investigator.)
- 2002 – 2003 FIU Foundation Research Grant ($10,518). Cross-Racial Identification. (Principal Investigator.)

GRADUATE STUDENT / POST-DOCTORAL TRAINING GRANTS & FELLOWSHIPS

- 2009 – 2011 Jacqueline R. Evans, Ph.D., Intelligence Community Research Post-Doctoral Fellowship ($239,484). Scientific Development of a Psychologically-Based Credibility Assessment Tool (PBCAT).
- 2006 – 2010 Kyle J. Susa, Graduate Research Fellowship, U.S. Department of Homeland Security ($82,800). The Impact of Training on the Cross-Race Effect in Memory for Faces.
- 2002 – 2006 Fadia M. Narchet, Predoctoral Research Fellowship, National Institute of General Medical Science ($100,000). Hostile and Benevolent Prejudice: A New Perspective.

AWARDS

- 2011 American Psychology-Law Society Book Award for Lassiter & Meissner (2010, Eds.), Police Interrogations and False Confessions: Current Research, Practice, and Policy Recommendations (American Psychological Association)
- 2008 Saleem Shah Award for Early Career Excellence in Psychology and Law, American Psychology-Law Society and American Academy of Forensic Psychology.
- 2008 & 2010 Outstanding Research Award, University of Texas at El Paso.
- 2006 Young Investigator Award, University of Texas at El Paso.
- 2003 MetLife Freedom Award, Florida International University.
- 2001 American Psychology-Law Society Dissertation Award (2nd Place).

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Interrogations & Confessions: the study of social and cognitive psychological factors that may lead to a confession, including the diagnostic value of various interrogation methods, the decision-making processes associated with a suspect's decision to confess, and the role of investigative biases in the use of coercive interrogation tactics.

Detection of Deception: the study of human lie detection, including factors that influence its reliability and validity in the context of police investigations, the presence of truth or lie biases that certain individuals may display in their detection performance, and the efficacy of training programs leading to changes in discrimination accuracy and response bias.

Memory for Faces & Eyewitness Identification: the study of social and cognitive psychological factors that influence memory for human faces, including phenomena such as the cross-race effect, verbal overshadowing, misinformation, perceptual distinctiveness, lineup identification procedures, and the assessment of lineup fairness.
